League Council Names Commission To Settle Dispute

FIRM ACTION IS DEMANDED BY EMPEROR

Italian Delegation Refrains From Voting; Action Is Unanimous

GENEVA, Sept. 6.—(UP)—The council of the league of nations, with Baron Poincaré, president, announced today that the Italian delegation, after refusing to sit with the Ethiopian delegation, approved unanimously tonight the creation of a five-power commission to attempt settlement of the African dispute.

Italy was listed as refraining from voting, which made it unanimous. The committee will be composed of representatives of Britain, France, Spain, Poland and Turkey, despite the fact that Baron Aloisi, president of the Italian delegation, previously had firmly refused to consider the participation on the ground that they are interested parties.

SELASSIE DEMANDS ACTION

ADDIS ABABA, Sept. 6.—(UP)—Emperor Haile Selassie I, in a statement to the world today, demanded that the league of nations take firm, just action to safeguard world peace.

He asked that the league go fully into the merits of the Italian-Ethiopian dispute and also interpret the Italian-Ethiopian treaty of 1928, which binds the nations to settle any differences by pacific means.

Addressing newspaper correspondents assembled here from all over the world, the emperor called attention to the league council's resolution of August 3 in which it agreed to meet September 4 "to undertake a general examination in its various aspects of the relations between Italy and Ethiopia."

He then recalled Ethiopia's great concession in agreeing that the question of territorial sovereignty should not be considered in discussing border clashes.

"The problem of Italian-Ethiopian relations remains," the emperor said, "Italy has refused categorically to submit to arbitration under our treaty of 1928. It is the duty of the council therefore to carry out its resolution of August 3."

POLICE TO QUIZ CRATER CASE GIRL

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 6.—(UP)—Acting at the request of New York authorities, police said today they would question Jayne Manners, former New York showgirl, regarding purported admissions to her husband that she "knew plenty" about the unsolved disappearance of Supreme Court Justice Joseph P. Crater.

Maurice L. Kussel, film director, in supplemental divorce complaint yesterday, charged that his wife frequently boasted of having valuable information about the New York justice who vanished five years ago. Kussel said she told him she could "blow the Crater case wide open" if she chose.

Miss Manners, however, flatly denied the charge in a statement issued through her attorney. She branded her estranged husband's statement as "merely viciousness."

Start Quiz On Florida Casualties

MIAMI, Sept. 6.—(UP)—Col. George E. Ijams, assistant veterans' administrator, began an investigation today to determine why war veterans were not evacuated from the Florida keys before they were devastated by the hurricane that caused the death of at least 300 persons and perhaps of 390 others, mostly veterans, reported missing.

The veterans were engaged on FERA road-building projects in the keys.

Ijams, assigned to the investigation by Frank T. Hines, head of the veterans' bureau at the request of President Roosevelt, arrived here today and immediately called a conference of all federal agencies in the area. He planned to announce his course of action later.

Other Developments

Other developments today included: Gov. David Sholtz ordered State's Attorney George A. Worley to conduct an investigation similar to that proposed by federal authorities.

Ijams announced veteran victims of the hurricane will be given military funerals here.

Federal Work Relief Administrator Harry L. Hopkins, in Washington, authorized a $300,000 grant to Florida to speed the rehabilitation program.

The hurricane, meantime, after lashing the west coast of Florida and cutting eastward across the state before swinging northward along the Atlantic seaboard, approached New York City today. Its intensity was considerably diminished, however.

Crop Damage Heavy

Property and crop damage in Florida and South Georgia was heavy. D. W. Thompson, in Washington, reported that the hurricane came into contact with an electric wire blown down by the storm.

Three outstanding problems presented themselves to relief workers here. First was the matter of sanitation, involving disposal of the bodies of storm victims. Gov. Sholtz announced "cremation may be ordered after consulting with state health officers." But President Roosevelt requested that under no circumstances should cremation be permitted.

Second was the task of tracing the 320 veterans and 70 civilians listed as missing. Officials feared many of these may have been drowned when seas of tidal wave proportions swept the Keys at the height of the hurricane Monday.

Third was the question of relief to survivors. Some relief officials said the veterans will be transferred to CCC camps. The allotment of federal funds, however, is expected to simplify the rehabilitation of others.

PRISONER HURLS CUP AT MAGISTRATE

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 6.—(UP)—Mrs. Florence Boykin Dowling, towering San Francisco woman, charged with the murder of her sister, Mrs. Gladys Glens Fair, created an uproar in psychopathic court today by hurling a sputum cup in the face of Superior Judge Georgia Bullock.

Shrieking that she was tired of being questioned over her sanity, the gaunt, 6-foot defendant then collapsed in a swoon. Judge Bullock hastily adjourned court and retired to her chambers.

FIVE METHODS FOR NEW TAXES ARE SUGGESTED

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Sept. 6.—(UP)—Five new tax methods designed to raise an estimated $58,000,000 have been proposed by F. E. Stewart, equalization board member, as a means of helping to balance the top-sided state budget.

Most of the Stewart proposals were considered by the 1935 legislative assembly but rejected during consideration of the new tax program. Stewart proposed:

Application of the sales tax to the use of gas and electricity, $12,000,000; collection of the sales tax on gasoline, $12,000,000; a severance tax on oil, gas and natural gasoline, $18,000,000; tax on cigarettes and tobacco, $12,000,000; increase in the motor vehicle license plate fee from $3 to $5.

The board member also suggested that a restoration of the 21-2 per cent sales tax rate without food exemption would increase state revenue.

JUDGE HENNING DIES ON TRAIN

TOLEDO, O., Sept. 6.—(UP)—Edward J. Henning, 66, former United States district judge in Los Angeles, died of a heart attack early today in the Union Station here.

Judge Henning was bound for Columbus, O., from Mooseheart, Ill., where he had addressed a Moose convention. He served as supreme dictator of the lodge in 1915 and 1916.

He was accompanied by Walter S. Ruff, of Canton, O., present supreme dictator, and was going to Columbus to confer with Gov. Martin L. Davey.

The two men sat up late talking as their train approached Toledo. As they were preparing to retire, the former jurist called out to Ruff that he felt ill. Ruff summoned a doctor when the train reached the station, but the California died before the physician arrived.

The body was removed to a funeral home. Coroner William M. Shapiro said death was caused by an organic heart ailment.

TROOPS SENT TO PREVENT TERROR REIGN

FRANKFORT, Ky., Sept. 6.—(UP)—Gov. Ruby Laffoon today ordered Adjt. Gen. Henry H. Denhardt to move national guard troops into Harlan county immediately to suppress what he described as a "reign of terror and lawlessness."

Although the governor's order was based on the death Wednesday of Elmon Middleton, Harlan county attorney, when a dynamite bomb exploded in his automobile, significance was seen in the fact that it was issued on the eve of the run-off primary for the gubernatorial nomination tomorrow.

The governor made one reference to the primary in his proclamation. This was the statement that "the rights of citizens to vote must be preserved and Gen. Denhardt may take any steps he deems necessary that this end may be attained."

Governor Laffoon indicated indirectly he was not satisfied with the investigation made by Sheriff Theodore Middleton, who has arrested four persons in connection with the county attorney's death. He gave as one reason for sending troops into the area the fear that there might be "an uprising in the event the real assassins are captured."

Gen. Denhardt said he did not know how many guardsmen would be sent, but that the force would comprise an "adequate number." Seven hundred troops were sent into the county to guard polling booths during the Aug. 3 primary.

G. O. P. TO START CAMPAIGN PLANS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—(UP)—Writhing his organization for the 1936 presidential drive, Chairman Henry P. Fletcher of the Republican national committee today summoned executive committee members to meet here Sept. 25 for a preliminary campaign conference.

It will be the first formal meeting of the Republican high command since June, 1934, when the full committee selected Fletcher as its chairman. He announced the conference was necessary "in view of the importance of early organization and intensification of Republican activities."

The Republican chiefs will be confronted by the task of selecting a 1936 convention city and of finding means to finance the campaign. San Francisco, Atlantic City, N. J., and Chicago have been mentioned as possible locations.

WORLD PEACE TO BE TOPIC FOR W.C.T.U.

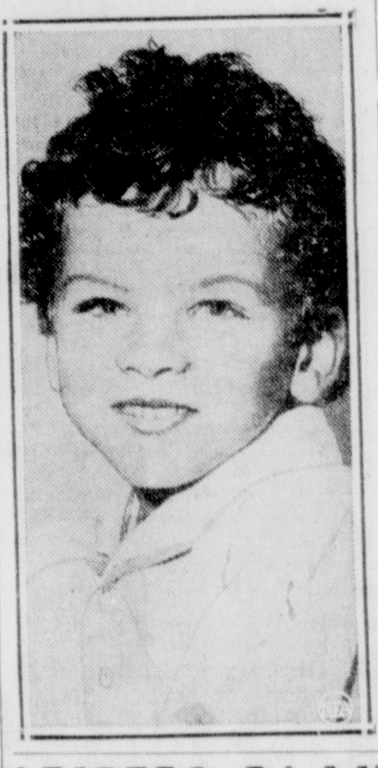

ATLANTIC CITY, Sept. 6.—(UP)—World peace will be one of the principal considerations of the W.C.T.U. at its 61st annual convention which opens tonight. It was learned today.

Mrs. Ida B. Wise Smith of Evanston, Ill., will appraise the United States' relation to the Italian-Ethiopian dispute in her opening presidential address tonight. It is expected that an expression on the threatening situation will come early in the six-day session.

The four-day preliminary school for leaders ended today with an address by Miss Bertha Rachel Palmer of Evanston. "Some people seem to use alcohol with no apparent harm," Miss Palmer said, "but no one tested has ever been found to be more skillful or to do better work because of it."

LEADERS PLAN DRASTIC MOVE FOR ECONOMY

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—(UP)—New Deal leaders today mapped a drastic government economy program seen here as a step toward early balancing of the budget.

Just what the administration hopes to accomplish in the way of economy during the next 10 months of the fiscal year will be revealed next week in a special budget summary now being prepared.

Unofficial estimates are that between one and two billion dollars will be shaved off present expenditure estimates of $8,520,413,609 for the fiscal year which began last July 1.

Also appearing to bring government expenditures and receipts closer were indications that tax revenue is running above the rate estimated earlier to net the treasury $4,991,904,639 for the fiscal year.

Government expenditures so far have been below the estimated $600,000,000 a month. It appears possible that expenses can be held down to less than $7,300,000,000—approximately $1,220,000,000 below estimates—for the fiscal year.

If these expectations are realized and further economies can be effected, the deficit may be less than $3,000,000,000, compared with present estimate of $4,529,000,000.

START MERRIAM FOR PRESIDENT CLUBS

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Sept. 6.—(UP)—The first "Merriam for President" club was organized in California today as a growing movement to inject California's governor, Frank P. Merriam, into the national political picture gained momentum.

Albert H. Miller, Azusa, Cal., notified the governor that the first of contemplated chain of campaign organizations had been formed in the Southern California city.

Merriam will visit the St. Louis national American Legion convention soon. Political observers said the visit would be intended as a "trial balloon" to gauge the Legion's attitude toward the governor as a potential Republican presidential candidate.

U. S. C. WINS HONOR

BRUSSELS, Belgium, Sept. 6.—(UP)—The FIDAC (International Federation of War Veterans), in congress here, has awarded medals for prowess in peace propaganda in schools to the University of Southern California, Dartmouth college and the University of Hawaii.

Pay Penalty For Attempt To Escape

SAN QUENTIN PRISON, Sept. 6.—(UP)—Ethan McNabb, dancer Pacific Coast "yacht bandit," and William Bagley, known as the number 1 "bad man" of San Quentin, dropped to death simultaneously today on the prison gallows.

The double trap was sprung at 10:02 a. m. and 13 minutes later Dr. L. L. Stanley, prison physician, pronounced the convicts dead.

McNabb and Bagley, with long crime records died for leading an unsuccessful attempt to scale San Quentin's walls last March 2.

Man Killed

Armed with prison-made guns, four convicts dashed into the prison yard with a ladder. Guards saw them and opened fire. When the gunfire was over, it was discovered that John H. Arbuckle, another convict, had been killed by the band as he blundered into the line of fire.

Two of the convicts were given additional terms for their part in the plot. McNabb and Bagley, however, were under life sentence—and in California a lifer who uses a gun against prison guards is liable to the death penalty.

Aided To Gallows

A jury in San Rafael, near the prison, decreed the gallows for the "yacht bandit" and his chief aide. McNabb reached the gallows platform just as the door to the "condemned cage" reopened to admit Bagley. Bagley was pale and was so weak that guards were forced to assist him up the gallows stairs.

The traditional black hood was being slipped over McNabb's head as Bagley approached. McNabb stood on the trap to the right of the one which held Bagley.

The "yacht bandit" glanced briefly at Bagley, who presented a woeful appearance in comparison to McNabb. Bagley's left temple was bandaged and he had a black eye—results of blows struck last Monday night by a death house trustee as Bagley made a sensational effort to escape.

"Take it easy," McNabb cautioned his companion.

Those were the last words heard in the death chamber. A split second later, three guards cut three strings leading from the gallows to a small booth nearby. Two of the three strings sprung the traps and the two convicts plunged downward together.

SCHUMANN-HEINK SIGNED BY MOVIES

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 6.—(UP)—The name of Madame Ernestine Schumann-Heink, was penned at the foot of a three-year Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer contract today, and the brand new Pickford-Lasky producing combine was "burned up."

When Mary Pickford and Jesse L. Lasky joined forces to make movies recently, they announced that the elderly diva would be one of their leading stars.

M. G. Levee, actor's agent tied up with the Metro organization, hopped a plane for Chicago and wheeled the diva into signing up. Almost before the ink was dry Lasky arrived in Chicago, but too late.

FILM STARS REPORT BODYGUARD RACKET

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Sept. 6.—(UP)—A "bodyguard racket" which reputedly aimed to fleece such film celebrities as Zasu Pitts and Stan Laurel under threats of kidnaping was being investigated today by police and the district attorney's office.

The scheme was exposed by Miss Pitts who said she had received threatening letters, demanding money and "suggesting" that she employ bodyguards to protect herself and family.

Under the plot, according to investigators, the authors apparently sought to frighten intended victims by threats of kidnaping or death and followed this up by applying for jobs as bodyguards at high pay.

Breathing Spell Announced in Answer To Letter From Editor

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Sept. 6.—(UP)—President Roosevelt announced today his basic program of reform and recovery had reached "substantial completion" and that the "breathing spell" wanted by business men was here.

His declaration was made in a letter to Roy W. Howard, chairman of the board of the Scripps-Howard newspapers. The letter revealed that the administration's modification of the rules of business has been carried practically as far as the president intends it shall go.

Howard had written to the president on August 26 telling him that many business men, once supporters of the New Deal, are now not only hostile but frightened and want a breathing spell. The president replied under date of Sept. 2.

The complete text of the Howard-Roosevelt letters will be found on Page 4 of this edition.

Both letters were released today by the summer White house.

Challenges Opponents

The president's letter was in a confidential tone and challenged political opponents to go before the electorate in opposition to any of his major objectives. Explaining that he entered office pledged to a "very considerable legislative program," the president declared conditions in 1932 required drastic and far-reaching action.

"Duty and necessity," he wrote, "required us to move on a broad front for more than two years. It seemed to the congress and to me better to achieve these objectives as expeditiously as possible in order that not only business but the public generally might know those modifications in the conditions and rules of economic enterprise which were involved in our program."

Substantial Completion

"This basic program, however, has now reached substantial completion and the 'breathing spell' of which you speak is here—very decidedly so."

Howard's letter said he had sought reasons for "the doubts and uncertainties of those business men who are skeptics, critics, and outright opponents of your program at a time when there is no commensurate dissatisfaction being evidenced by others of the electorate." He told the president that hostility to the New Deal did not clear merely among selfish or sinister interests.

"Many of these men," he wrote, "whose patriotism and sense of public service will compare with that of any men in political life, have become convinced and sincerely believe:

Charges Reviewed

"That you fathered a tax bill that aims at revenge rather than revenue—revenge on business; "That the administration has side-stepped broadening the tax base to the extent necessary to approximate the needs of the situation;

"That there can be no real recovery until the fears of business have been allayed through the granting of a breathing spell to industry, and a respite from further experimentation until the country can recover its bases;"

Howard invited the president to "smoke out the sinister forces

SLAIN MAN'S BODY FOUND IN FIELD

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Sept. 6.—(UP)—A bullet hole in the forehead, the neatly dressed body of a man identified as Arthur A. Quist, 50, former naval chief carpenter's mate, was found lying in a field north of here today.

Police said Quist, apparently a victim of murder, had been shot in the head with a large calibre gun. The bullet had entered the forehead and emerged at the back of the head.

No gun was found near the body. There was no evidence of a struggle and only indication Quist might have been a victim of robbery was a turned-out trouser's pocket.

BASIC PROGRAM OF NEW DEAL NEARLY DONE

speaking to delude the public into believing that an orderly modernization of a system was to be preserved in revolution in disguise.

The president replied that business interests actually are in harmony with mass interests in this country. He said it would be futile to attempt to distinguish between "reform" and "recovery" legislation because the objective actually was remedial and that reform and recovery are twine and inseparable.

Economic Background
Broad and just social and economic purposes underlie the tax bill, the president continued, its objective being not to destroy wealth but to broaden the range of opportunity and "restrain the growth of unwholesome and sterile accumulations."

He said it graduated the levy on corporations to recognize a fact that business represents a great ability to pay. He estimated that the tax bill reduced the impost on 95 per cent of American corporations. The "small excess profits tax" is expected by the president to encourage simplification of overly complicated inter-corporate relationships—a reduction of holding companies.

Congress, he wrote, declined to broaden the tax base. But he added that invisible consumers' taxes borne by every individual had increased from 20 to 60 per cent of the national revenue since 1925 so that "the broadening of the tax base in the past few years has been very real." He estimated that the new tax bill levying more heavily on incomes over $50,000 and individual inherited estates or more than $40,000 would reduce the proportion of these consumers' taxes by about five per cent.

"It is a source of great satisfaction to me," he wrote, "that at this moment conditions are such as to offer further substantial and widespread recovery."

KNOX SAYS, "JUST ANOTHER PROMISE"

CHICAGO, Sept. 6.—(UP)—Frank Knox, publisher of the Daily News and mentioned as a possible Republican candidate for the presidency, today characterized President Roosevelt's announcement of a "breathing spell" for industry as "just another promise."

"The record has been made," Knox said, "and it will take more than a promise now from Franklin D. Roosevelt to restore confidence. That demands a literal fulfillment of the promises he made when he was a candidate for office."

"Nothing has yet appeared to indicate a steadfast, implacable purpose to fulfill them. That can be disclosed not in words but only in deeds. I do not think business will again be willing to play 'Little Red Riding Hood' to the President's wolf."

HOWARD DECLARES UNCERTAINTY ENDED

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 6.—(UP)—Roy W. Howard, chairman of the board of Scripps-Howard newspapers, said today that business can be counted upon to "get into the game" now that the period of New Deal economic experimentation virtually has been completed.

Howard referred to an exchange of letters between President Roosevelt and himself in which the President said that the principal objectives of his program have substantially been reached.

Howard, preparing to sail on the S. S. President Coolidge from San Francisco on a world tour, said:

"The statement speaks for itself. Business has the answer to the question it has been asking for months. The President states unequivocally that the basic program of the New Deal has reached substantial completion and that the long-demanded breathing spell is here."

"With the period of experimentation halted and the new rules definite, business can be counted on to get into the game."

TITLE TO RANCH WATER IS AWARDED

Edward J. Power, who purchased a ranch in the Placencia district, only to find that the well and water supply for the property was claimed by a former owner, Otilio Henning, who had assigned it to the other persons, won title to the water right at a hearing yesterday before Superior Judge H. G. Ames.

Power, through his attorney, R. Z. McKinney, contended that the well and water right was appurtenant to the land, and not to be separated from it. Otilio Henning had brought suit against Power, through Attorney H. C. Westover, to obtain title to the well and water. The court awarded the decision to Power.

Although widely known as among the most popular soloists in the city, the Misses Audrey Granas, violinist, Anna May Archer, cellist, and Beatrice Granas, pianist, will make their first bow as the recently organized Lyric String Trio in an open musicale Tuesday evening at 8:15 in the Ebell club lounge.

Formed in early summer, the trio has been practicing for this debut in addition to other individual engagements. The former is also a member of the Santa Ana symphony orchestra.

POLICE SCOUT MAN'S STORY OF DOG-NAPING

Police merely laughed today over the story yesterday relative to the dog-napping of a shepherd dog reported by Jack Robinson, 719 East Second street.

Joseph Duskey, 408 East Fourth street, appeared at the police station and informed officers that the dog was his, and that he had taken it away from Robinson.

He declared that the dog was given to Robinson on condition that he make a home for it and that Robinson had been keeping the dog in his room in a local boarding house instead. He said he had been searching for Robinson for several days and when he saw him and the dog, he merely took the dog, which he has placed on a ranch near Santa Ana.

"He just didn't keep his bargain with me," Duskey reported. Police have taken no further action in the case.

Robinson reported the "theft" to the police as a "dog-nap" crime and even furnished Duskey's car numbers.

"He knew it was me all the time," Duskey reported.

TAX REFUND CLAIM REFUSED BY COURT

Sam Block and Max Rouse, who purchased the furnishings and equipment of the Balboa Inn, including hotel, cafe and drug store, last spring, and then rebelled at paying current city and county taxes on the property, lost their fight for a refund yesterday when Superior Judge James L. Allen ruled in favor of the county and City of Newport Beach.

The court refused to order a refund of $164.75 paid to the county under protest, and $146.64 paid to the city.

The plaintiffs contended that they did not purchase the property until March 5, and that they were not the owners on March 1, the legal assessment date.

The county and city officials maintained that the purchase had been made, and the plaintiffs were in possession of the property before March 1.

FAMOUS BAND TO PLAY AT BALBOA

Jay Whidden and his famous orchestra will play tonight, tomorrow night, and for the Sunday matinee dance at the Balboa Rendezvous, it was announced today by Manager H. L. (Pop) Tudor.

Jimmie Grier and his Biltmore Bowl orchestra also will visit the beach ballroom, playing for the Sunday evening dance, from 8 to 12, Tudor said. There will be no advance in prices for this special attraction.

The ballroom, completely rebuilt the first part of the summer, and now more beautiful and acoustically perfect than ever, is open every night except Monday, where dancing is being held to the music of Gil Evans and his orchestra.

Tudor announced that future plans of the Balboa Amusement company, owners of the ballroom, call for the securing of a famous "name" orchestra to play at least one night each week as an added attraction for the pleasure-seekers that throng the hall.

SEEK ANSWER TO MYSTERY OF DISAPPEARANCE

Police were today endeavoring to unravel the mysterious disappearance of George E. Morrison, 60, of 722 South Ross street, last night. Morrison left here yesterday on a Pacific Electric car for Los Angeles where he was to check the trunks of his parents, both 81 years old, who were to leave Santa Ana today for Cedar Rapids, Iowa, on a visit.

He was to return at 7:30 o'clock last night. He has not been heard from or seen since that time. Police were told today by W. A. Culbertson, 310 West Second street, a friend of the family.

The mother and father are frantic over the disappearance and police are checking today to see if the son ever arrived in Los Angeles. They are endeavoring to determine if the trunks were ever checked.

Morrison has lived here with his parents for the past year and a half. He is a retired railroad brakeman and is from Cedar Rapids himself.

PERMITS FOR BUILDING IN BIG INCREASE

Santa Ana's building permits for the month of September went skyrocketing again yesterday with the entry on the books of a new $12,500 Santa Ana home to be erected at 1917 Victoria Drive, by Roy Russell. The home will be for sale when completed.

Total building permits for the first five days of the month aggregated 29 for $20,523. There was only a total of $36,534 for the entire month of August, indicating September as a banner month in building here.

The new home is to be two story, frame and stucco and will have 11 rooms. Five other permits issued yesterday totalled $583.

They were given a suspended jail sentence on condition they leave the county immediately. It was learned that they got the same treatment in San Diego county several days ago.

Goodrich Firm Announces New Line Batteries

The B. F. Goodrich company, Akron, Ohio, has just announced its new line of automobile storage batteries, headed by the new 145-24 Electro-Pak with a striking stippled design for the exterior of the battery case, and another new product, the Electro-start, it was announced today by Orval Lyon, manager of the Goodrich-Silvertown store, First and Broadway.

Declaring the Electro-Pak will deliver 20 per cent more power than ordinary batteries of similar size, Lyon says this has been made possible by the use of 45 plates in the three cells instead of the usual 39, and by making these plates oversize, each being a half inch higher than those in an ordinary battery.

Rigorous tests conducted by the Goodrich company previous to public announcement of the new line have proved the worth of the new products, Lyon said. Among the achievements of the Electro-Pak is the starting of an eight cylinder car 2006 times in eight hours and 28 minutes, as compared to 2220 starts in seven hours and 15 minutes for the nearest competitor.

DRIVER SLEEPS IN MIDDLE OF ROAD

"Some folks pick out a swell place to take a nap," said Oscar Kelley, member of the California Highway patrol yesterday afternoon as he arrested Jesse Kimber, 55, of Anaheim, Route No. 3, on a drunk charge. At the time, Kimber was sleeping peacefully in his car, parked in the center of the highway on Orangethorpe avenue.

Cars were whizzing by him from both directions, according to the officer, but they bothered the sleeper not at all.

The man was booked at the jail.

HOPE TO START WPA PROGRAM SEPTEMBER 9

A hope that enough projects will have been received back from Washington with federal approval to warrant the starting of WPA work between September 9 and 15 was expressed here today by District Director George White, of San Diego.

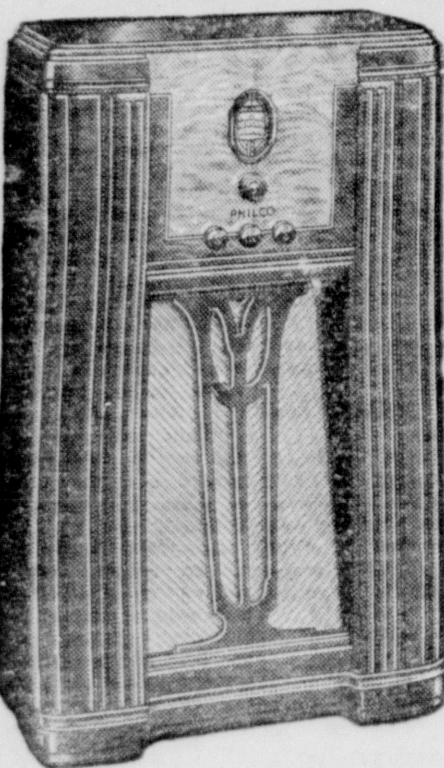

White, making a preliminary investigation of the Orange County administration set-up in company with other district officials, stated that everything is in readiness in the twelfth district, including Orange county, for the start of work as soon as approval is given sufficient projects.

The placement department of the county office will be installed the first of next week, County Manager Dan Mulherson stated. Approval of personnel plans from San Francisco is expected to arrive here tomorrow.

Existing labor records, available labor supplies, office equipment and workers were investigated by the official party today, and final preparation for the start of work virtually completed, it was said.

In the party from San Diego were White, Joe Roche, district director of personnel; Daniel C. Quinn, district property officer; and Oakley M. Hall, supervisor of labor management.

A WORD OF COMFORT

Your observance of other lives makes you know that, if God protected us more than He does, we should always remain spiritual infants.

God does not send tribulation; He would spare us having to bear it if it were right and best. Amid all the mystery, one thing is clear—if we try, we can come nearer to Him in the midst of our sorrows than we have ever been before.

Officials of the Orange County Farm Bureau today issued a statement in which they clarified their stand against admitting reporters to sessions of the bureau board of directors.

The statement emphasized the fact that information regarding farm bureau activities is always freely given to newspapers, and that reporters may always attend its general membership meetings.

Judge Is Uncertain

Obviously the court was caught between the vision of the two child victims of the crash, on the one hand, and the plight of Thompson's own four children, one of them newly born, if the breadwinner should be sent to prison on the manslaughter charge that rests against him.

"It is a fact that his family would suffer. A most deplorable fact; one that has caused me many hours of worry. I confess I do not know what to do about them."

Facts Examined

As to Thompson himself, the court indicated a complete lack of sympathy. "An examination of the facts, and an inspection of the scene of the accident, where this man drove through a boulevard stop at the end of a road, where it entered another highway," he said, "makes it apparent that either one of two things was responsible. He was asleep, which he says he was not, or he was under the influence of liquor."

Thompson's claim that he was not familiar with the intersection, and did not know the road ended there, was scouted by the court.

"There was a house squarely opposite the end of the road, and he must have known there was some kind of corner there. The house wouldn't be in the middle of the road," said Judge Allen. He also pointed out that Thompson had been selling cars in Long Beach two and a half years, and must have passed that intersection many times.

Witnesses had claimed that Thompson drove through the boulevard stop at a speed of about 45 miles per hour, and made no effort to turn either way, but rammed the Love automobile, as it crossed in front of him on the other highway.

Justice Morrison reset the case for trial for September 25, at 9 a. m.

DeBritton was charged with selling a can of milk, for five cents, which the state claimed was in violation of the law in that it was below cost.

Franklin G. West, Santa Ana attorney, represented the defendant.

He was asleep, which he says he was not, or he was under the influence of liquor."

Thompson's claim that he was not familiar with the intersection, and did not know the road ended there, was scouted by the court.

"There was a house squarely opposite the end of the road, and he must have known there was some kind of corner there. The house wouldn't be in the middle of the road," said Judge Allen. He also pointed out that Thompson had been selling cars in Long Beach two and a half years, and must have passed that intersection many times.

Witnesses had claimed that Thompson drove through the boulevard stop at a speed of about 45 miles per hour, and made no effort to turn either way, but rammed the Love automobile, as it crossed in front of him on the other highway.

Clarify Stand On Private Sessions

Officials of the Orange County Farm Bureau today issued a statement in which they clarified their stand against admitting reporters to sessions of the bureau board of directors.

Meetings of the board of directors, they stated, should be regarded as meetings of the executive staff of any private business, and that very often controversial subjects are discussed, which it would not be to the best interests of members of the bureau to public

TEXT OF HOWARD-ROOSEVELT LETTERS

Following is the text of the exchange of letters between Roy W. Howard, chairman of the board of the Scripps-Howard newspaper, and President F. D. Roosevelt:

"August 26, 1935.
"My Dear Mr. President:
"As an independent editor keenly interested in the objectives of the New Deal, I have been seeking reasons for the doubts and uncertainties of those business men who are skeptics, critics, and outright opponents of your program at a time when there is no commensurate dissatisfaction being evidenced by others of the electorate.
"I do not accept it as a fact that the interests of what we broadly term business, necessarily are in conflict with mass interests.
Composite Criticisms
"I expect to continue in support of your stated interpretation of American liberalism—notwithstanding my dissent and disagreement as to some details and some theories. Therefore, it is in a friendly and I hope constructive spirit that I attempt a few observations and opinions which I believe timely and pertinent. These represent, I believe, a composite of the most frequently expressed criticisms of your administration.

"That certain elements of business have been growing more hostile to your administration is a fact too obvious to be classed as news. So long as this hostility emanated from financial racketeers, public exploiters and the sinister forces spawned by special privilege, it was of slight importance. No crook loves a cop. But any experienced reporter will tell you that throughout the country many businessmen who once gave you sincere support are now, not merely hostile, they are frightened. Many of these men whose patriotism and sense of public service will compare with that of any men in political life, have become convinced and sincerely believe:

Charges Summarized

"That you fathered a tax bill that aims at revenge rather than revenue—revenge on business;
"That the administration has side-stepped broadening the tax base to the extent necessary to approximate the needs of the situation;

"That there can be no real recovery until the fears of business have been allayed through the granting of a breathing spell to industry, and a recess from further experimentation until the country can recover its losses.
"I know that you have repeatedly stated your position on sections of the nation's problems, but as an editor I know also the necessity for repetition and reiteration. There is need to undo the damage that has been done by misinterpretations of the New Deal.
"I know that you feel as I do—that with all its faults, and the abuses it has developed, our system has in the past enabled us to achieve greater mass progress than has been attained by any other system on earth. Smoke out the sinister forces seeking to delude the public into believing that an orderly modernization of a system we want to preserve, is revolution in disguise.
"Cordially and sincerely yours,
"ROY W. HOWARD."

Roosevelt Replies

The president, under date of September 2, 1935, wrote the following reply to Mr. Howard:
"My Dear Mr. Howard:
"I appreciate the tone and purpose of your letter, and fairness impels me to note with no little sympathy and understanding the facts which you record, based on your observations as a reporter of opinion throughout the United States. I can well realize, moreover, that the many legislative details and processes incident to the long and arduous session of the congress should have had the unavoidable effect of promoting some confusion in many people's minds.
"I think we can safely disregard the skeptics of whom you speak. Skeptics were present when Noah said it was going to rain, and they refused to go into the ark. We can also disregard those who are actuated by a spirit of political partisanship or by a willingness to gain or retain personal profit at the expense of, and detriment to, their neighbors. Then there were those who told us to 'do nothing.' We had heard of the do nothing policy before and from the same sources, and in many cases from the same individuals. We heard it when Theodore Roosevelt and Woodrow Wilson proposed reforms.
"The country has learned how to measure that kind of opposition.
Duty Owed
"But there are critics who are honest and non-partisan and who are willing to discuss and to learn. I believe we owe, therefore, a positive duty to clarify our purposes, to describe our methods and to reiterate our ideals. Such a clarification is greatly aided by the efforts of those public-spirited newspapers which serve the public well by a true portrayal of the facts and an unbiased printing of the news.

"However, experience is the best teacher and results are the best evidence. As the essential outline of what has been done rises into view, I am confident that doubts and misapprehension will vanish. I am confident further that business as a whole will agree with you and me that the interests of what we broadly term business are not in conflict with, but wholly in harmony with, mass interests.

"I note what you say of the hostility emanating from financial racketeers, public exploiters and sinister forces. Such criticism it is an honor to bear. A car with many cylinders can keep running in spite of plenty of carbon—but it knocks. When it is overhauled an important part of the job is the removal of that carbon.
Cause and Effect
"In the large, the depression was the culmination of unhealthy, however innocent, arrangements in agriculture, in business and in finance. Our legislation was remedial, and as such, it would serve no purpose to make a doctrinaire effort to distinguish between that which was addressed to recovery and that which was addressed to reform. The two, in an effort toward sound and fundamental recovery, are inseparable. Our actions were in conformity with the basic economic purposes which were set forth three years ago.
"As spokesman for those purposes I pointed out that it was necessary to seek a wise balance in American economic life, to restore our banking system to public confidence, to protect investors in the security market, to give labor freedom to organize and protection from exploitation, to safeguard and develop our national resources, to set up protection against the vicissitudes incident to old age and unemployment, to relieve destitution and suffering and to relieve investors and consumers from the burden of unnecessary corporate machinery. I do not believe that any responsible political party in the country will dare to go before the public in opposition to any of these major objectives.
"The tax program of which you speak is based upon a broad and just social and economic purpose. Such a purpose, it goes without saying, is not to destroy wealth, but to create broader range of opportunity, to restrain the growth of unwholesome and sterile accumulations, to lay the burdens of government where they can best be carried. This law affects only those individual people who have incomes over $50,000 a year, and individual estates of decedents who have over $40,000.
Discusses Taxes
"Moreover, it gives recognition to the generally accepted fact that larger corporations enjoying the advantages of size over smaller corporations possess relatively greater capacity to pay. Consequently the act changes the rate of tax on net earnings from a flat 13 3/4 per cent to a differential ranging from 12 1/2 per cent to 15 per cent. No reasonable person thinks this is going to destroy competent corporations or impair business as a whole. Taxes on 95 per cent of our corporations are actually reduced by the new tax law. A small excess profits tax is also provided as well as an intercorporate dividend tax which will have the wholesome effect of encouraging the simplification of overly complicated and wasteful intercorporate relationships.

"Congress declined to broaden the tax base because it was recognized that the tax base had already been broadened to a very considerable extent during the past five years. I am aware of the sound arguments advanced in favor of making every citizen pay an income tax, however small his income. England is cited as an example. But it should be recalled that despite complaints about higher taxes our interest payments on all public debts, including local governments, require only 3 per cent of our national income as compared with 7 per cent in England.
"The broadening of our tax base in the past few years has been very real. What is known as consumers' taxes, namely the invisible taxes paid by people in every walk of life, fall relatively much more heavily upon the poor man than on the rich man. In 1929 consumers' taxes represented only 30 per cent of the national revenue. Today they are 60 per cent, and even with the passage of the recent tax bill the proportion of these consumers' taxes will drop only 5 per cent.
Drastic Action Needed
"This administration came into power pledged to a very considerable legislative program. It found the condition of the country such as to require drastic and far-reaching action. Duty and necessity required us to move on a broad front for more than two years. It seemed to the congress and to me better to achieve these objectives as expeditiously as possible in order that not only business but the public generally might know those modifications in the conditions and rules of economic enterprise which were involved in our program. This basic program, however, has now reached substantial completion and the 'breathing spell' of which you speak is here—very decidedly so.
"It is a source of great satisfaction that at this moment conditions are such as to offer further substantial and widespread recovery. Unemployment is still with us but it is steadily diminishing and our efforts to meet its problems are unflagging. I do not claim the magician's wand. I do not claim that government alone is responsible for these definitely better circumstances. But we all know the very great effect of the saving of banks, of farms, of homes, the building of public works, the providing of relief for the destitute, and many other direct governmental acts for the betterment of conditions. And we do claim that we have helped to restore that public confidence which now offers so substantial a foundation for our recovery. I take it that we are all not merely seeking but getting the recovery of confidence.

not merely the confidence of a small group, but that basic confidence on the part of the mass of our population, in the soundness of our economic life and in the honesty and justice of the purposes of its economic rules and methods.
"I like the last sentence of your letter and I repeat it—'With all its faults and with the abuses it has developed, our system has in the past enabled us to achieve greater mass progress than has been attained by any other system on earth. Smoke out the sinister forces seeking to delude the public into believing that an orderly modernization of a system we want to preserve is revolution in disguise.'
"Very sincerely yours,
"FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT."

LIONS CLUB TOLD OF NEW MEASURES

ORANGE, Sept. 6.—Measures which were passed by the state legislature at its past session and some which will come before the body at sessions to be held this winter were discussed by Assemblyman James E. Utt at a meeting of the Orange Lions club Wednesday. Alvin Drumm presided and Cal D. Lester acted as program chairman.

An increase in the cost of state government was brought about, Utt stated, by the state's taking over the care of criminals and the insane and a certain amount of school costs formerly borne by counties and states. The state has assumed local burdens because the state is in a better position to administer such matters in a more uniform manner, he said.

Utt stated that he had voted for the state income tax although he did not approve of it, doing so because he believed the measure would be better than an initiative measure which would have come up. A state income tax discourages the investment of capital, he stated.

A great deal of misinformation has been given out in regard to the Huntington Beach oil situation and the drilling on state tide lands, Utt said. He declared that the richness of the pool had been exaggerated.

CONSTITUTION DAY WILL BE HELD SEPT. 17

Mayor Fred Rowland has received a letter from the National Constitution Day Committee, New York City, in which more than 60 national patriotic, civic and service organizations are represented, urging him to appoint a committee to arrange for the local observance of Tuesday, September 17, as Constitution Day, and to issue a proclamation calling upon the citizenry of this city to rededicate themselves to the principles of the Constitution. The committee also urges the holding of appropriate exercises in the schools and the general display of the American flag.

The letter to the mayor, signed by A. R. Giroux, chairman of the committee, is as follows:

"Dear Mr. Mayor:

"Last year the mayors of several hundred cities over the country, embracing more than three quarters of the urban population, issued proclamations calling upon their citizenry to mark fittingly Constitution Day on September 17.

"Observance of this historic event in American history was inaugurated about a score of years ago by the Sons of the American Revolution and each year has seen the movement grow stronger. Today most of the patriotic and civic organizations throughout the United States are supporting the national observance. In addition to exercises in every community, a national Congress is to be held this year in historic Faneuil Hall, Boston, with nationally known speakers broadcasting over coast-to-coast radio hookups.

"In the name of this committee and in the name of the great patriotic organizations participating in this movement I wish to urge that you issue a proclamation setting aside this day and calling upon the citizenry of your community to rededicate themselves to the Constitutional principles enunciated by our forefathers upon which this nation has been built.

"I also wish to suggest that you appoint a Committee of citizens to stimulate the observance of this day in your city, and that the flag be officially displayed.

"I respectfully request that you send to the committee for its archives a signed copy of the proclamation which you issue."

General Chairman Harry Hanson, presiding, called for an enthusiastic response from workers this year, and pointed out that the ambition of the drive should be to exceed the quota, rather than merely attempt to fill it.

Reports were given by Carson Smith of the Y. M. C. A. and Captain C. W. Gallip of the Salvation Army regarding the work done by their organizations and the cooperation existing between them and the Community Chest.

It was announced that the campaign headquarters had been established at 410 North Sycamore street, office equipment and personnel installed, and the preliminary work preceding the October 6 to 12 drive proceeding rapidly.

Hearings on the tentative agreements will be conducted by AAA officials in Portland, Ore., Sept. 20 and 21, and in Berkeley, Cal., Sept. 23 and 24. AAA headquarters here said.

Carl Mock, president of the Santa Ana Realty Board was today named by that board as the second director for Santa Ana with the California Real Estate association. His name will be carried before the state convention at San Francisco, October 2, 3, 4, and 5 and he will serve during 1936.

The local club is allowed two state directors provided it has a membership of 25 or more and recent additions to the club allowed the second director. W. F. Croddy is the other director named for next year.

President Mock appointed Jack Lassiter, John Knox and Jack Wallace as the club's planning committee for the year.

The meeting today was held at the James' cafe, with an almost full membership present.

ELECT NEW HEAD OF NURSE BUREAU

Nurses of Orange county today announced their choice of Mrs. Ann Stolpe Lockhart as new director of the Nursing Bureau, succeeding Miss Mabel Reid, who will spend the next year in Berkeley studying at the University of California for bachelor of science degree.

Mrs. Lockhart, a graduate of the University of Oklahoma school of nursing in 1927, was superintendent of the clinic hospital in Bristow, Okla., for two years. She is southern chairman of the state committee on public information of the California State Nurses association. For the past five years, she has practiced in Orange county.

The Nursing Bureau which Mrs. Lockhart now heads, is an institution supported by the nurses for the convenience of lay people, physicians and nurses, so that adequate nursing service may be obtained at any time of the day or night, it was explained. Located on Stewart drive and Main street in Orange, the bureau maintains a physicians exchange in connection with its registry.

FIRE DAMAGES TWO GARAGES AND AUTO

Fire of an unknown origin badly damaged two garages and destroyed an automobile at 617 and 621 South Sycamore street at 1:41 a.m. today. The total loss was estimated at $625.

Damage to the garages was estimated at $250, contents $200 and automobile $175.

The car was the property of R. A. Beauchamp which was being kept in a garage owned by Jennie White at 617 South Sycamore street. The other garage was the property of V. D. Williams, located at the rear of his home.

Firemen from three Santa Ana stations answered the alarm.

$1,000,000 DAMAGE TO CITRUS BY GALE

TAMPA, Fla., Sept. 6.—(UP)—The first official estimate of the damage to the Florida citrus crop from the recent hurricane was placed at 1,000,000 crates of oranges and grapefruit today by the Florida Citrus exchange.

This is expected to mean a net loss to the growers of $1,000,000. The grapefruit loss was placed at 50 per cent of the crop in the affected areas and 25 per cent of the orange crop was believed destroyed.

The heaviest suffering counties were said to be Pinellas, Hillsborough, Sarasota, Nanatte and Dade.

TUBERCULIN COWS TESTS POSTPONED

The tuberculin test scheduled for dairy cattle in Orange county has been indefinitely postponed by Dr. J. E. Stuart, state veterinarian in charge of the southern district, according to notice just received by the Orange county livestock inspector, Dr. J. H. Bower, of the county health department, he announced today.

The reason given for the postponement, said Dr. Bower, was that the last test conducted in Orange county showed that less than eight-tenths of one per cent reacted to the tuberculin test.

CITRUS MARKET GROUP ELECTS NEW OFFICERS

Members of the new Placentia-Orange County Citrus exchange met today and completed the work of organization on the new exchange.

Officers were elected, and plans laid for an immediate application for membership in the California state exchange, so that marketing can be done through that medium. Until their application is acted upon, it was explained, marketing will be done through the Northern Orange County exchange. New officers of the concern will be located in Placentia.

The group, composed of the Placentia Mutual exchange, the Placentia Orange Growers' association and the Bradford Brothers' association, elected officers as follows:

President, John C. Duffree; first vice president, E. W. Hemphill; second vice president, Warren Bradford; secretary-treasurer, L. M. Gardner; manager, Harry Easton; assistant manager, J. A. Prizer; representatives to the board of directors of the California exchange, J. A. Prizer, with Ted Backs as alternate.

Members of the board of directors will be R. Eastman, Duffree, Hemphill, Bradford, Gardner and Prizer.

RESUME HEARING ON GROVE FORECLOSURE

Superior Judge James L. Allen today resumed hearing of the petition filed by Charles E. Borchard, McAdden street orange grower in Santa Ana, to postpone foreclosure sale of his 12-acre grove to satisfy a $20,000 trust deed and $3000 in back interest and taxes. The hearing started yesterday.

The petition was directed against the Orange County Title company, trustee under a deed of trust for the amount of the indebtedness.

The court yesterday issued an order that all income from the property be impounded, and none of it expended without a court order.

WASHINGTON

POLITICS

GOP strategists refuse to subscribe to the theory that the Democrats have a mortgage on the West for 1936. Their private polls lead them to believe that the states beyond the Mississippi are a debatable battleground.

Although glad to accept AAA bounty, the wheat and corn-hog farmers are reported to feel that a more permanent agricultural policy is needed. The legal and political attacks on the bounties and processing taxes warn them that the rest of the country won't stand for this setup forever. Basically Republican and conservative, returning high prices are heading them toward their old moorings.

In the Northwest the Republicans say they find a different feeling. In that country the farmers are supposed to favor inflation as against the temporary AAA program. GOP publicists therefore are spreading word that the inflationary Frazier-Lemke bill was kept from passage only by White House intervention. They blame its defeat on President Roosevelt himself.

SPLITS

But the Republicans have discovered no substitute for the Wallace-Roosevelt program. Although they don't talk about this problem publicly it's in the back of their minds.

as a party-splitting issue—like the liquor question in 1932.

The Springfield "grass roots" conference denounced agricultural control measures by speeches but not by resolutions. The Young Republicans meeting in Yellowstone Park called vaguely for "something just as good." The Old Guard wants to junk the whole works.

If western GOP presidential candidates balled together the AAA would win easily. Except for Messrs. Borah and Vandenberg every prospective nominee in the Senate voted for it. House possibilities—Snell, Wadsworth and Fish—lined up against it. It is popular in Illinois and Kansas, the bailiwicks of Frank Knox and Alf Landon. No wonder platform-makers are stumped.

ATTACK

Secretary Roper is rapidly losing caste with the conservative interests as he was supposed to conciliate while the real New Dealers chased him. He hasn't made good any of his claims as a pal of Big Business. The President has listened to the Corcorans and Cohens instead of him.

Members of his Business Advisory Committee will demand a showdown at the first fall meeting after the summer recess. A majority have already gone on record as favoring disbandment of the agency which was designed as an arbitration committee between the White House and private industry. They have suffered a summer of joshing for their failure to function.

Roper's group may not precipitate an open break. But they will not complain if directors of the U. S. chamber of Commerce and the National Association of Manufacturers deplore and denounce at their fall conclaves late this month. They won't urge delay and compromise, as they have done in the past. Big Business is set to denounce the New Deal on all fronts.

FRIENDLY

Comptroller General McCarl must be slipping or submitting to the personal charm of Franklin D. Roosevelt.

The President called in the hard-boiled financial watchdog when the death of the Third Deficiency bill killed the appropriation for setting up the Social Security Board. As expected, Mr. McCarl ruled that other funds could not be used to pay old age or unemployment allowances. But he reported to a legal rule to permit the tapping of other appropriations for establishing administrative agencies.

Mr. McCarl held that members of the board and technical staff could be paid from relief money on the theory that this expenditure provided jobs for needy people. It is, perhaps, the first time in fourteen years that the Comptroller General has let his heart rule his head, although not the first time he has wanted to.

BETTING

The New Deal's major political prophet—Emil Hurja—scuffs at suggestions that President Roosevelt faces a hard reelection campaign. Despite his admitted prejudice Washington listens to him respectfully because his forecasts rang true in 1932 and 1934—unusually true.

Mr. Hurja backs up his opinions with private bets for dinners and hats. He has wagered that Mr. Roosevelt will carry any state which has advanced a favorite son for the GOP presidential nomination. He has also bet that the President will sweep Louisiana even against the Kingfish. If he is right, the Democrats will win New York, New Jersey, Michigan, Iowa, Kansas, Oregon, Illinois, Idaho. All these commonwealths have produced Republican hopefuls.

Mr. Hurja offers no complicated reasons for his conclusions. He has not begun to make samples of political sentiment. He simply says: "The people are for Roosevelt." He also knows—but won't tell—what Democratic field agents have been doing to insure victory.

LONGER?

Establishment of a deadline for PWA applications and contracts has had an effect not intended by the White House. Secretary Ickes is using the argument to obtain an extension of the deadline date and exceptions to its application.

Interior Department field forces report that injunction proceedings against proposed PWA projects have increased twofold overnight. Many have been inaugurated by private utility companies against federal financing of competing public plants. Others have been started by taxpayers who plead the increases in local taxes which may result. The idea behind these legal moves is to stall off negotiation of contracts until local communities cannot benefit from New Deal grants.

Mr. Ickes has not abandoned hope of changing the presidential mind. But Mr. Roosevelt wants to put the unemployed to work before snow falls and he sees little chance of that in the slow long-time Ickes program. There is no sense in clearing slums, the White House feels, unless you can give work to the dwellers in the dark and dingy places.

NOTES

Senate lobby committee sleuths are gathering material for another session soon to be called by Chairman Black. . . . The House chain-store investigation committee under Chairman Patman is probing into rebates. . . . What are "implements of war?"—The neutrality resolution requires the president to specify them and it's a hard job. . . . But cotton and wheat will not be on the list. . . . Washington's eyes just now are riveted on Geneva.

NEW YORK

By James McMillin

PROD New York conservatives are planning to feature the improvement in the steel industry as proof that government spending is a futile burden on the taxpayer.

They will claim—and will offer statistics in support—that steel has made its comeback without assistance from the work relief fund. The argument will be that if steel can do it so can other industries—so what's the sense of squandering federal funds when recovery and re-employment are on the way regardless?

It sounds like beautiful logic—but impartial critics point out a couple of flaws. They remark that striking increase in building construction—which the steel makers are especially happy about—traces definitely through indirectly to the stimulus of federal encouragement. Without it home-building would still be scraping bottom. Farmers are buying more agricultural machinery—and Uncle Sam's benefit payments have a lot to do with that. The railroads' buy steel equipment only when the government loans them money to do so.

PATTED

A number of big business leaders have quietly developed a more responsive attitude towards labor's aims and problems in recent months. Not that they have suddenly gone altruist—it's just a case of realizing that the dollars-and-cents motive makes it worth while to keep labor disturbances at a minimum while recovery is taking root. You hear a lot of talk in high conservative quarters about stabilizing employment and labor conditions—a topic which most executives would have dismissed with a shrug even a few months ago.

One motive behind plant renovation activities is to keep the workers better satisfied. In the motor industry, for instance, installation of certain new machinery will eliminate bottlenecks of production and help to smooth out the employment curve over the year. Other industries are using their own men for modernization work during slack periods when they would otherwise be laid off. This altered attitude doesn't mean at all that capital is becoming so labor-minded as to abolish future friction. It does mean that big business would much prefer to postpone labor showdowns until its profit position is more securely entrenched.

Side by side with this development is the growing realization among business chiefs that the Federation of Labor is their staunchest bulwark against the dangerous growth of radicalism among workers. So word has been passed that the Federation should be patted on the back whenever this can be done without weakening industry's position for future controversies.

ANGLING

The textile industry is confronted by a burning problem which is keeping its executives awake nights. It isn't—as you might think—the possibility of another strike nor the wage differential between northern and southern mills nor even the menace of Japanese competition. It's the question of who will get the processing tax money if the AAA is declared unconstitutional by the Supreme Court.

Processors and distributors both want the dough and are angling feverishly for contracts which would assure their getting it—in case. But everybody is so cagey about it that nobody is making much progress.

PLANES

The leading air transport companies are all planning a new type of plane. They have four-motor 40-passenger ships in mind. The outstanding manufacturers—Sikorsky, Boeing, Douglas and Curtiss—are all working along these lines. There are no new engineering problems involved—but designs must be worked out in detail and operating efficiency exhaustively tested. Such planes will be in regular service by 1938.

There won't be much increase in air speed—50 m. per hour is planned now—but transcontinental schedules will be shortened by fewer stops (because of greater fuel capacity) and greater efficiency in taking off and landing. An added feature will be a revision of design to permit level landings—more comfortable for passengers and safer.

DEMAND

The machine tool industry is a sensitive business barometer. Last year machine tool owners were only about 50 per cent of the 1926 average—but since this spring they have climbed rapidly to about 130 per cent.

There will be a Machine Tool Builders' exhibit this month for the first time in six years. 85 per cent of metal work machinery is now more than ten years old and

THE INVITES

As Duncy landed on the ground, he sat right up and looked around. And then he shouted, "I'm not hurt. Once more I'll try to ride." "Somebody scared my horse, I guess. That's why I got into this mess. Just one fall does not scare me out. I have a real tough hide." The small horse, in the meantime, ran around. "Hey, catch him, if you can," cried Scouty. "I would like to see poor Duncy try once more." "A cowboy scared the horse, you see. That didn't seem quite fair, to me. Perhaps we Duncy can ride fine. A treat may be in store." A cowboy let his lasso fly, and then he loudly shouted, "I have caught the nag, already. Help we Duncy climb aboard." This time the lad did very well, and Goldy said, "I think he's awell." The horse then growl tired out. "That is enough," a cowboy roared. "Another horse then galloped out and all the bunch heard Scouty shout, "If you think Duncy did real well, just keep your eyes on me. I learned some horse tricks long ago, and now I will put on a show. In just a minute you will know I'm clever as can be."

"Why, that horse has no saddle, son. To ride him will not be much fun," exclaimed a friendly cowboy. Scouty answered, "That's all right. I know the proper way to stick right on him. That's part of my trick. I'll bet I don't fall off, though he may kick with all his might."

For 'bout a half an hour or so, the lad put on a real fine show. "Now, watch me stand upon my head and hands," he loudly cried. It was no sooner said than done. "Gee," Doty yelled, "I'll bet that's fun. Brave Scouty should be with a circus. How that lad can ride!"

(Coldy gives the Tinies a big laugh in the next story.)

MRS. RAY JOHNSON ENTERTAINS CLUB

GARDEN GROVE, Sept. 6.—The first meeting of the club year was held by members of the Three 'n' Twenty club Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ray Johnson on North Euclid avenue. Mrs. C. G. Hall announced that plans would be discussed at the October meeting for the annual Halloween party for members and their husbands.

Mrs. Wilbur Harper was in charge of the program. Mrs. C. Z. Wasson named lists of books for both children and adults and gave a brief summary of each book. A solo, "When Love Comes Calling" was sung by Mrs. Charles Lake, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Irvine German. A trio composed of Gerald Wasson, Leonard Harper and Kenneth Hall played a piano selection, "By the Bubbling Spring," by Paul Zilcher. The hostess served a salad course on individual trays each bearing small books as favors which had been made by Mrs. Johnson. Zinnias and other garden flowers decorated the home.

HOLLYWOOD HAPPENINGS

By DAN THOMAS, Staff Correspondent

DIRECTORS "ON THE GO"

Pictures showing Hollywood directors planted in comfortable studio chairs are far from the truth. Film directors easily can be classed with postmen, floorwalkers and policemen. They hop about all day, issuing instructions, carrying them out and planning set-ups. They sit down, if at all, only during brief "takes."

Director Al Santell is probably Hollywood's champion "hopper." He alternates among four pairs of comfortable bedroom slippers for studio wear during the filming of a picture.

IT'S REAL BUS
If you ever travel across the country and ride in bus No. 202, California license plate P1915, you can tell friends that an ex-motion picture set carried you to your destination.

The interior of a real transcontinental bus with that number was used the other day by Alice Faye and Ray Walker for a scene in "Ball of Fire." Seats were torn out to accommodate the camera crew.

Lack of time prohibited the construction of a replica in the studio. Although the bus didn't leave the sound stage, technicians, with the aid of wind machines and sand, created the illusion that it was travelling.

LARGE ENROLLMENT SEEN FOR SCHOOL

BREA, Sept. 6.—Registration at the Brea-Olinda Union High school indicates that the enrollment will exceed that of last year. It was announced today. The increase is due to the large class of freshmen and several new families in the community.

With one exception the faculty will remain the same as last year. Miss Charlotte Keays will have charge of home economics, replacing Miss Frances Bevin, resigned, who had been with the school for the past five years.

Others of the faculty are C. O. Harvey, principal; Mrs. Myrtle Van Derhoof, girls' vice-principal; A. O. Andrew, R. A. Bates, Rosemary Bennett, Mary Bruner, Louise Chapman, Beatrice Helmick, O. P. Hornaday, Paul E. Norris, Olive Pinney, Irene Preble, Ruth Roberts, Harriet Shadforth, Stewart S. Smith, A. E. Steulke, Mrs. Nora Todd and Miss Irene Stives are the secretaries in the office of the principal and Miss Ruth Livingston is assisting with the library work.

Classes open Tuesday, September 10.

requires replacement. Also there have been tremendous improvements in labor-saving devices and precision which should keep demand at a high level for some time. This will help re-employment—as there is a shortage of skilled mechanics in the machine tool trade.

HELP

Further light on the shrinkage of New York City. The Transit Commission recently published figures showing a loss of passengers on all transport lines of 11.9 per cent from 1920 to 1934. Observers remark that if this sort of thing keeps up New York will be a deserted village in 50 years. Of course it won't continue at that pace—but the drop is big enough to be highly significant.

Last year's loss was very small—but that was largely because it was a convention year. Comment runs that conventioners may boost subway revenues some—but they aren't a bit of help at paying taxes.

EXHIBITION OF ORIENTAL ART IS ON DISPLAY

Marking a departure from the general trend of one-man shows exhibited at the galleries of the Laguna Beach Art Association, heretofore consisting principally of work by American and European painters, is an exhibition of paintings by Orientals now on display in the lower gallery. The three artists whose one-man shows are featured this month are Hideo Date and Benji Okubo, Japanese painters, and Tyrus Wong, a Chinese artist.

The group was exhibited recently at the Foundation of Western Art in its galleries in Los Angeles, and was made the subject of much favorable comment by leading critics and prominent art patrons.

Included among comments by noted critics are the following biographical notes by A. Macdonald Wright of Los Angeles, an authority on Oriental art, which will assist the onlooker to understand the style and technique as well as the poetical messages written in the pictures.

"Hideo Date inherits his love of art from previous generations of artistic families. Unlike his confreres, he remained in Japan during his early and impressionable formative years. Only in minor and superficial ways has he made concessions to Occidental technique. His work swings from the translation of the Chinese Sung landscape tradition to the native Japanese school founded by the celebrated Matsuei and carried on by Japanese masters."

Discussing Okubo, the critic says, "Benji Okubo is a native of California whose contacts are quite as much American as Japanese. His entire art education was gotten here and yet in his work the strong, one might say, eternal vitality of Asia is manifestly preponderant. Certain of his forms have been adopted unconsciously from the Occident, but looking beyond these we see ever organically at work the East Asian love of space and precision."

"In Tyrus Wong we find a Chinese who, though living in California, nevertheless is more intimately attached to his homeland. From an artistic family he received the traditional love of poetry and calligraphy, and it is these two inspirations that vitalize his art. Here, heretofore established itself over environment to a marked degree."

BATTLES SIN

Oysters will grow old in mol-lus quiet and peace of Zion City, Ill., and sin, as represented in gum, cigarettes, sleeveless dresses and movies, will be banished while William M. Edwards is mayor. Edwards, who topped Wilbur Glenn Olive from his throne, has decreed blue law's return, including the ban on oyster eating.

TUSTIN GROUP WILL PRESENT PLAY SEPT. 27

The Tustin Thespian club, composed of former Tustin Union High school students, will present the most ambitious of its programs September 27 at the high school auditorium in Tustin, when it will perform the three-act play, "Jonsey."

Work on the production, said to be a fast-moving modern comedy, has been done under the direction of Norman Nemmes, director, and Miss May Rose Borum, club advisor.

This is the first three-act play attempted by the group. The club was organized about two years ago of students graduated from Tustin high school, who wished to keep up their interest in amateur dramatics, and have been working under Miss Borum.

The cast for the production, which includes several Santa Anans, was selected early in the summer, and regular rehearsals have been under way for several weeks.

Included in the group which will present "Jonsey" are Marion Hanson and Elmer Osterman, in the romantic leads; Lucille Grier, James Doyle, Marie LaBrucherle, Martha Snow, Ed Pankey, Stanley Wilson, Martin Bowman, Elmer Rittner, Rachel Jones, Charles Kiser and Don Watson.

STRANGE AS IT SEEMS—By JOHN HIX

Strange as it seems, the first submarine warfare dates back to the beginning of United States history, when a crude yet ingenious one-man submarine attacked a British frigate lying at anchor in New York harbor.

The submarine, designed and built by David Bushnell, was hand operated. For a quick dive, water could be admitted into the bottom of the boat, later to be pumped out by hand when the craft was ready to rise.

The torpedo was tied on the outside; with it was a screw arrangement so that the operator could attach it to an enemy ship. On its first attack, this submarine, called the "American Turtle," was actually brought up under the hull of the British warship "Eagle" in New York harbor—but the copper sheathing on the bottom of the ship was too heavy for the screw to penetrate. Unsuccessful thus far, the operator cut his torpedo free and propelled his submarine to safety. The prize schooner saw it and hauled it aboard. The torpedo then exploded, killed three of the crew, blew up the ship and set it afire.

The word "lumber" is traced back to the name "Lombard" in Northern Italy. The Lombards were noted for their money lending, and in England the word came to mean money lender or pawnbroker. By extension, it was also applied to things pawned, later to furniture and other things held by a pawnbroker, and finally to anything that is stored or piled up—such as lumber in the sense we know. Corruption of the original spelling changed Lombard into lumber.

In the non-jury division, more commonly known as the amateur division, entry blanks will be received through Sept. 5, while the deliveries of exhibits must be made to the grandstand building on the fair grounds between 9 a. m. and 5 p. m., Sept. 10.

REDUCE JAYCEE FEES ONE-HALF FOR THIS TERM

Fees and deposits required for laboratory courses and physical education classes at Santa Ana Junior college have been reduced approximately one-half by action of the Board of Education and many other fees have been done away with, according to D. K. Hammond, Jaycee director.

Nominal fees are charged to cover the expense of breakage and supplies in laboratory courses. Unused breakage fees are returned. A small deposit is charged in physical education classes, for lockers and for book lockers in College hall. Fees, including the Associated Student book at $7, average about $10 to $20 per year.

No tuition is charged at the junior college but students must purchase their own textbooks. The amount spent on text books averages $10 to $15 each year.

A fee of 25 cents which was charged at the junior college each semester for blue books used during examinations has been dispensed with as have charges for the Subject A examination and the aptitude test required of all entering freshmen.

Classes in the science department have the highest fees. Bacteriology carries a fee of $2; botany, $1; chemistry 1A-1B, $3 and $2 breakage fee; chemistry 2A-2B, $2 and $3 breakage fee; chemistry 3, $7 and $5 breakage fee; geology, $1.50; zoology, $2; surveying, $2; and physics, $2.

A fee of $1 for supplies is charged in all art classes and some economics classes have a 50 cent supply fee. Mechanics whoop courses have a fee of $1.50 and drawing classes of $1. A fee of 50 cents is charged for towels in physical education classes and a deposit of 50 cents for the symposium locker. The book locker deposit is also 50 cents. Other fees are $1 for a change of program and $1 for late registration.

Students unable to pay these fees are given an opportunity to work them out.

VETERANS HEAR HISTORY TALK

A group of members of Jack Fisher chapter and auxiliary, disabled American Veterans of the World war, greeted Terry E. Stephenson when he addressed Wednesday's meeting at the K. of C. hall.

Stephenson outlined the history of the state, from the days of Cabrillo up to the present century, stressing the part played by such "Heroes of California" as Father Junipero Serra, Fremont, Kit Carson and many others.

In a way remarks prefacing his address, Stephenson referred to two Orange county heroes of the World war, both of them connected with Jack Fisher chapter, D.A.V., the late Jack Fisher and Col. Nelson M. Holderman, recipients of the French Medaille Militaire and Congressional Medal of Honor respectively.

Miss Bernice Miles was applauded for her humorous readings. Her clever imitations of D.A.V. officers were especially well received during the evening. A program of violin music was presented during the refreshment period.

No further nominations of officers were made and election will be held on September 13. Commanders Van Leonard Brown and Pearl Laub presided.

LARGE ENROLLMENT EXPECTED AS JAYCEE MAKES READY FOR START OF NEW SCHOOL YEAR

There are indications that at least 100 more Freshmen will enter Santa Ana Junior college this year than last, according to Director D. K. Hammond.

The initial event of Freshman Days will be an assembly in the First Baptist church at 10 a. m. Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday will be devoted to acquainting the freshmen with the various curricula of the college and to the classifying examinations, the aptitude test and the English (Subject A) examination.

Thursday will be devoted entirely to the registration of returning students, the hours being from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. On Friday, freshmen and new students will register from 8 to 5 and then from 7 to 9 in the evening, for students who cannot come at any other time.

Any who are planning to attend junior college and have not made out an application should do so in advance of registration, Hammond advised.

Catalogues which are available in the college office daily should be secured and studied. All teachers will be on hand next week for consultation.

A new vocational course will be offered in printing. This is called apprenticeship training and a class will meet daily from 12:30 to 4:30 for printing and allied subjects. In the morning, students may choose other subjects which may interest them. Those taking this course will receive full credit as apprentices in the printing trade. All branches of printing will be taught.

It is expected that about 20 students will register for the pre-nursing course which is offered for the first time. Those completing this one-year course in pre-nursing will be able to enter the Orange County Hospital Training School or elsewhere, and at the end of 28 months receive the registered nurse title.

Auxiliary Adds Sum To Tornado Relief Fund

Voting to send $10 to the Miami Legion post's fund for tornado victims, members of American Legion Auxiliary met last night in Veterans hall for their first meeting under the leadership of Mrs. Ralph Hoover, newly installed president.

Mrs. Hoover and Mrs. A. C. Eklund gave reports on the recent convention held in Fresno.

Drill team members announced plans for two benefit dances to be held on the evenings of October 12 and November 23 in the hall.

The next meeting will be held Thursday, September 19, at 7:30 p. m.

Junior Auxiliary
Junior Legion Auxiliary members elected officers at their meeting yesterday afternoon in the hall. Those named were Phyllis Sandon, president; Mary C. Hoover, Mary Alice Eklund, vice president; Marjorie Johnson, secretary-treasurer; Mabel Louise Castex, chaplain; Barbara Montgomery, musician; Shirley Leimer, sergeant-at-arms; Mary Juden, marshal.

Installation will take place at the next meeting, September 19, at 3 p. m. in the hall, with members of the senior auxiliary invited to attend. The ceremony will be followed by a winner roast at the home of the new councilor, Mrs. D. M. Jellis, 1209 West Highland street.

Plans are under way for organization of a Junior auxiliary drill team, it was revealed.

Party Guests Shower Miss Cora Holt With Linens

Miss Cora Holt, popular bride-elect of George Risch, was inspiration for a linen shower last night when Mrs. Risch's mother and his cousin, Mrs. Anna Risch Muskopf and Miss Ellen Frazee, joined as hostesses. They entertained in the Muskopf home, 202 West Tenth street.

Tallies were distributed for the bridge games which occupied the group early in the evening. Prizes rewarded Mrs. Edward Lane and Miss Holt for their first and second high scores.

Preciously wrapped and adorned with roses, a package brought to Miss Holt at a late hour, proved to contain shower gifts from the assembled group.

The hostesses had arranged for their honoree to officiate at a pretty ceremony during the refreshment hour. Miss Holt was asked to cut the first slice of an elaborately decorated cake whose frosting bore the names of the bride-to-be and her fiancé. The confection was served with other dainties, at small tables centered with pink and white carnations.

You and Your Friends

Sammy Tucker, junior college football star, who has been awarded a scholarship at University of Arizona for the coming year, left yesterday with Wally Smith of Long Beach and Tom Carlyle, also former players here. They are driving Mrs. Gerald A. Oliver's car, since Coach and Mrs. Oliver, the latter just commencing to recover from an attack of pleurisy with which she was stricken while spending the summer at Lido Isle, left Sunday for a more leisurely drive to the same university where Mr. Oliver is football director.

Wedding Is Announced Upon Return From Mexican Honeymoon

Latest among the brides of Delta Chi Sigma sorority is Miss Winifred Schneider. X-ray technician in the office of Dr. A. E. Chase, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Schneider of Garden Grove. For friends have just been apprised of the quiet wedding in San Diego on Sunday, September 1, of Miss Schneider and Floyd Manderscheid, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Manderscheid of Greenville.

The young couple have been honeymooning in Ensenada, and since their return, the new Mrs. Manderscheid has resumed her duties in Dr. Chase's office. However they will eventually make their home in Los Angeles where Mr. Manderscheid is with the Soule Steel company.

It was at early morning rites in San Diego First Presbyterian church that wedding vows were taken before the Rev. Mr. Tyler. The bride was smartly attired in sheer wool in navy blue and ivory with the ivory tones repeated in her dress accessories. These included gloves which her maternal grandmother, Mrs. George Head, had worn at her own wedding in England 52 years ago. Her lowers were gardenias in corsage arrangement.

Miss Elizabeth Keith of San Diego served her cousin as maid of honor, and Don Cavanaugh, also of San Diego, a close friend of Mr. Manderscheid, assisted the latter as best man. The ceremony was followed by a wedding breakfast at which Mr. and Mrs. Don Cavanaugh were hosts before the departure of the young couple for Ensenada.

Both young people are former students at Santa Ana Junior college and have been prominent in social affairs of the younger set here.

Unusual Features Are Seen In Natal Date Observance

That life's autumn birthday celebrations may be quite as imbued with the spirit of youth and gaiety as those of life's springtime, was exemplified yesterday afternoon when Mrs. M. E. Conkle and a group of her friends shared the pleasant features planned by Mrs. Lula C. Blacketer in observance of the 55th birthday anniversary of her mother, Mrs. Conkle.

Early in the afternoon Mrs. Conkle's friends began assembling in the home, 401 East Pine street, where a little group of relatives bade them welcome. Of the nine special guests invited, the young-est had passed her eighties, and two of them had reached the nineties. Comparison of ages revealed this interesting fact, with Mrs. Elizabeth McLeod as the eldest of the youthful-hearted guests.

Mrs. McLeod wears her crown of 91 years graciously, and equally lovely pictures of serene old age are offered by the hostess and guests invited to this unique event: Mrs. Kate Hendricks and Mrs. Hattie Kimball, 80; Mrs. Adeline Hall, 77; Mrs. Martha King, 85; Mrs. Rebecca Fraser, 85; Mrs. Janet Hantsberger, Mrs. Sarah Alford and Mrs. Kate Johnson, each 81.

Mrs. Conkle received her guests in a gown of soft gray silk crepe with touches of pale mauve lace in its trimming. She was really embowered in flowers for in addition to those planned for her by her relatives, were many ornamental clusters sent by friends. There were greeting cards and many gifts as well.

At 4 o'clock the special birthday guests were bidden to the dining room where Mrs. L. W. Hynes had arranged the floral decorations in purple and gold. A handsome lace cloth was used on the table, and small service dollies made by Mrs. Blacketer, repeated the purple and gold motif. Two handsomely decorated cakes were served with the lily-centered ice cream of the dessert course which crowned the chicken dinner menu. Mrs. A. H. Riddell, a daughter of the honoree, had decorated one of these with the dates, 1880-1935, traced in the icing between the golden yellow candles indicating 55 years. Mrs. V. P. Conkle, of Los Angeles, a daughter-in-law, used deep yellow icing on another cake, topped with a flower design in tones of mauve and purple.

Miss Marguerite Riddell, wearing a smart little ruffled apron and cap in the chosen colors, served the menu for her grandmother's guests.

Musical Program
During the evening hours was a special musical program. Miss Barbara Riddell played a succession of her grandmother's favorites, including Schubert's "Serenade" and other numbers. Maurice Phillips sang request solos with Harry Garstang at the piano. His songs varied in sentiment from the tenderness of "Friend of Mine" (Sanderson), "My Dream" (Tosti), "Love's Sorrow" (Shelley) and "Mother of Mine" (Tours), to the rollicking gaiety of "Three For Jack" and "Never Go To the Sea on Friday."

Mrs. Conkle, who was born September 15, 1880, in Elkhart county, Ind., has lived in Santa Ana since 1903. Her family is in the Southland, and members were present with her yesterday to share in the day's events of picture taking, music, etc. The list included Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Riddell and their sons, Donald, of San Diego; the V. P. Conkles and daughters; Barbara and Marguerite, Los Angeles; Mrs. Blacketer and Miss Etta Conkle, of the home, together with a group of cousins, Mrs. Elmore Monahan, Highland Park; Mrs. Bertha Mills, Garden Grove, and Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Compton, Pasadena.

LEARN THE DOLLARS AND CENTS VALUE OF A NEAT, EASILY MADE HOUSE FROCK PATTERN 2383

By ANNE ADAMS

You'll be so proud of a house frock you've made yourself, for it's an easily realized economy, and one well worth repeating. Yoke, sleeves and front bodice panel are cut all in one, thus a three-way time saver. The bodice is gathered ever so slightly to lend that needed fullness back and front, while an inverted pleat is an asset to any straight-line skirt that climbs to cupboards via a step-ladder. Don't the patch pockets give it a tailored air? The V-neck may have just two revers, as pictured or a collar to finish off the back as you please. Choose colorful square buttons for a striped shirting frock.

Pattern 2383 is available in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30 and 32. Size 16 takes 3 1/2 yards 36 inch fabric. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included.

THE MIXING BOWL

EAT AND GROW SLIM

Luncheon
Big bowl of hot vegetable soup
2 slices zwieback
Glass of uncreamed milk
A ripe apple or peach
Calory total 250
If you haven't a soup bone, don't let that faze you, make your vegetable soup with all the green vegetables you have at hand and when well cooked, simply add a piece of butter, and there you are...full of health and flavor...yet simple enough to qualify in menus of this kind.

A combination I like requires a small head of celery with tops, cut fine, a bunch of green onions, plenty of ripe tomatoes, or canned ones, parsley, three large potatoes, sliced, carrots, green peas and a head of lettuce, ribboned. Cook in quite a bit of water, seasoning as the vegetables blend. If you like you may add finely sliced cauliflower when you add the chunk of butter, and cook the broth ten minutes longer.

FOOT EXPERT TO ANNOUNCE LOCAL CLINIC

Richard A. Bradford, foot expert and proprietor of the Dr. A. Reed Shoe store in Santa Ana, will tell of the establishment of a free clinic for foot sufferers during the "Healthy Feet" broadcast from KREG tonight at 7:45. This was announced as an addition to the present extension of service to friends and patrons of the Dr. A. Reed store which has featured extra service, an exclusively expert staff of fitters and the Friday radio broadcasts which have given considerable information of a practical and educational nature on the care of the feet. The clinic will be held in the evening at a time to be announced during tonight's broadcast.

The "Healthy Feet" broadcasts are made each Friday at the same hour.

PUBLIC ASKED TO DESIGNATE POPULAR HITS

The second presentation of "Ballads in Blue," a new and original program featuring original songs by "Reg" Tompkins and O. M. Watson, is programmed at 7:15 tonight on KREG.

The program differs from all others in that the songs and tunes included are all original compositions, some of them having definite potentialities of being "hits." Billy Page, vocalist, and "Reg" Tompkins, pianist-composer, both of Los Angeles, are featured on the program.

The public is requested to telephone or write their comments and preferences of the songs immediately after the broadcast so that an indication may be obtained as to the most popular compositions. Constructive criticisms, whether favorable or unfavorable are particularly welcome.

Tonight's presentation will include the three original compositions: "On This Very Spot," "Whenever It's Twiligh," and "Dangerous." Public approval or disapproval of these numbers will determine whether or not, they will reach an office of a music publisher. Not one of them has been broadcast before.

CHEVROLET OFFERS ONLY POPULAR MUSIC

Confining tonight's presentation to popular dance rhythm and popular songs, tonight's "Musical Moments with Tommy McLaughlin" will deviate from the variety presentations previously scheduled.

McLaughlin, popular for his ballad songs both old and new, will sing "My Gal Sal" and "I Wish I Were Aladdin," the latter song from the production "Two for Tonight." Victor Arden's orchestra will play the rhythmic tunes: "Lulu's Back in Town" and "Why Do I Dream Those Dreams."

For dance tunes, not found often so early in the evening, tonight's Chevrolet presentation on KREG at 7 o'clock will provide the best.

DRAMATIC PLAYLET SCHEDULED TONIGHT

"The Ghost Painter" titles this week's "Front Page Drama" to be broadcast from KREG tonight at 8:45.

This is a dramatic story of an artistic hoax that failed itself, but revealed a masterpiece.

Joseph Greenwald, radio and stage star, will carry the feature role.

"HOT-CHA" RHYTHM IS LISTED TONIGHT

An all-rhythm program will be presented by the T. S. Hunter Oil company tonight on KREG at 6:45, with the music of four of the most popular orchestras.

A group of three "hot-cha" rhythm numbers will be played by Jack Hyton, Benny Goodman and Lew Stone and their bands, including "Down Home Rag," "That's A Plenty" and "Hilton Stomp," and Russ Morgan's orchestra will contribute the easy-going rhythm of the popular tune, "There's a Single Little Tingle."

The T. S. Hunter popular presentation of late dance tunes, band numbers and college songs are programmed each Monday, Wednesday and Friday at the same hour.

"HILLBILLY" GROUP ADD TO POPULARITY

Tonight, responding to many requests from admiring listeners, the boys will present a variety of songs, yodels, instrumental numbers and solos and will include "Play to Me Gypsy," "Nobody's Sweetheart Now," "Mississippi Moon," "The Wreck of Number 9," "Tavern in the Town" and other numbers.

The group comprises "Red," "Smoky," "Percy," "Curly," "Happy," "Buddy" and "Mac."

Oranges will soon come into their own again. There is a short crop in Florida, also in Northern Calif., as well as a very short crop in So. Calif. The conditions inevitably will make the orange price very, very much higher next year. Naturally higher priced oranges will make the grove prices higher. Will you be wise and buy a grove now and get the advantage of the increased value? Nothing pays better than orange groves over a period of years.

THE PREJUDICE AGAINST THE
"DOLE" AND ITS RAMIFICATIONS

Dr. A. H. Giannini of Los Angeles has just returned from a trip abroad, and, in discussing the relief system of Great Britain, he says:

The dole system has worked very satisfactorily and I think the main reason for its success is its intelligent and efficient management.

There isn't the waste, extravagance, and duplication in the dole system that there is in the hodge-podge of American Relief Administration. Of course, the secret of British success lies in the fact that they have a sensibly planned system with trained efficient men in charge.

There is a great deal more to be said for Great Britain's plan of the so-called "dole" than has ever been spoken of its behalf in this country.

The truth is that the very forces, which are now attacking the large expenditure of money which is due to "made" work in this country, to supply the unemployed with income, are the ones, for the most part, who deliberately created such a prejudice against the use of the "dole," that it was taboo in this country before our real problem was upon us in force.

These men foresaw that if the federal government planned a "dole" it would take considerable federal money. This was before the CWA or the SERA.

Having done their job of arousing this prejudice against a direct help, Congress and the President had to go some other way, and that was to create work, which meant large sums for administration and for many worthless adjuncts to it, which would have been saved in a direct "dole."

More than this, in a great many instances, it placed the workers in direct competition with private employees and the question of wages paid has produced an almost exhaustless amount of friction and trouble.

And again, there were thousands of people in this country trained in the art of social service who might have been well utilized in the distribution of the "dole" who were worthless, in a measure, with the complications growing out of the hydra-headed affair with which we have been dealing.

We could have learned more quickly and more completely whether business could work itself out if that plan had been taken. As it is, the vast sums that have been paid out by the federal government in each locality, raise a serious question as to what might happen if this should be withdrawn.

The future, with all of its bright tincture, is more uncertain now than it would be if we had proceeded along the other route. But surely we cannot blame our representatives for following the sentiment of the people of the country which was created deliberately by propaganda.

In other words, the federal government was forced into the very position it took because no other way was left for it, and now, through the creation of these taxes and the accompanying uncertainty, business is blaming the federal government for the condition which it itself produced.

THE IMPORTANCE OF THE ISSUE
BEFORE THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS

All eyes, nationally, are on Geneva. What will the League of Nations do in the Abyssinian-Italian controversy?

Not only is it important from the standpoint of this controversy and the possibilities of immediate conflict, but, in the estimation of millions of people, it is the final testing time of the League.

If the League does not attempt to use sanctions, to prevent this outrageous rape of a weak, independent country by a strong and powerful one, without question the faith in the League of Nations will be almost completely shattered in the minds of millions.

The address of Prof. Gaston Jeze, on behalf of Ethiopia, was a pitiful appeal that might come from a defenseless child who was about to be attacked by a powerful brute.

After Italy had designated Abyssinia as an "outlaw," the withdrawal by Italy's delegation, because Abyssinia's representative had used strong language and therefore the Italians had been "insulted," could not but receive a smile of derision from the observer.

Foreign Minister Litvinoff of Russia declared in his address, immediately following the appeal of Jeze:

We cannot agree with the attitude of the representative of Italy. Although the Walwal dispute has been settled, there is a threat of military aggression, which the League cannot ignore without weakening its authority.

The state I represent entered the League a year ago for the sole purpose of maintaining an indivisible peace. Every war has the germs of future wars. Forfeiting conflicts between member states is the primary duty of the League.

He further said that "the League is confronted by the direct menace of military operations. Italy does not deny this. Italy confirms it. The essence of the Kellogg pact is that military operations should be restricted to defense of one's country when attacked. I urge the members of the council to do everything possible to avert war."

If, in the face of the League of Nations, in the face of the Kellogg compact, in the face of the relative defenselessness of Ethiopia, in the face of our present civilization, the League of Nations or the leading members of the council, stand back and permit this terrible travesty of justice to be perpetrated, it not only will be an outrageous act in itself, but will destroy the hope of millions in the world and set back the progress of peace to unannounced degree.

CREDIT UNIONS

The loaning record of an Orange County credit union, as brought out in a news story in The Register yesterday, was the best in the United States last year. Not a dollar loaned out at interest was lost. This particular credit union was composed of Orange County teachers.

Not only is the record a splendid achievement, but the very fact that one such credit union has operated successfully in our community will encourage other groups of people to organize a similar money-lending agency.

The problem of borrowing $20.00 or $50.00 or two hundred dollars is oftentimes a more serious matter than borrowing larger amounts. The reason being that the person needing such a loan has no security to offer, aside from his generally good reputation.

Regular commercial institutions, doing this class of lending, are privileged to charge as much as 30 per cent interest and quite generally have developed a technique, strictly legal, which even increases the interest charge, but even so all such lending agencies are not to be condemned.

Commercial lending agencies simply cannot afford to loan their money at rates that are much lower because of the difficulty of collecting what is due them.

A credit union, on the other hand, does not loan to anyone except a member of its group; and its collection charges are almost nil. Generally speaking, such unions are formed by members of one firm, members of one local union, a church group, lodge group or association. In the normal course of their lives, the members meet together from time to time. Everybody knows everybody else, their habits, income and reputation.

A loan made by a credit union, to a member of that union, is made with the full knowledge of the true character of the borrower. The penalty for failing to pay back any money borrowed from the group, unless for reasons beyond the control of the borrower, puts the defaulting borrower "in bad" with all the rest of the group, whose money he has borrowed.

Rather than sever all social and business ties or become an uninvited guest when the group gathers, these loans are repaid as promptly as possible and money can therefore be loaned at about one-third of the commercial rate.

The prejudice against these associations or unions has been very hard to overcome. That great Boston merchant, Filene, is said to have spent a million dollars popularizing the idea in this country.

As lending institutions they teach the members the value of thrift, sobriety and industry, for, unless a member stands well with the group, he will not receive a loan.

As service institutions to people with few means, these credit unions are ideal, and deserve to be fostered in all groups. They are or can be made into the poor man's bank.

"287 Kv."

Christian Science Monitor

The vast proportions of the Boulder Dam development on the Colorado River have overshadowed an engineering advance of no small significance to the public in connection with this project. Electrical energy produced at the dam is to be transmitted 266 miles to Los Angeles at the highest voltage ever utilized commercially, 287 kilovolts, or "kv," as technical men term it. In conventional transmissions 220,000 volts (220 kv.) has for some years represented the upper limit of standard practice.

An increase of 67,000 volts (not many years ago itself the limit of electrical pressure in transmission of power) is a substantial achievement. It means that more power can be transmitted economically for longer distances and provides society with a longer working arm.

Steady and highly reliable service is demanded by users of electricity today wherever they may be, and so great pains have been taken to insure this in modern power transmission systems. Remarkable headway has been made in protecting lines and plants against lightning. Automatic apparatus has been perfected for maintaining the even pulsations of current necessary for electric clock operation and for smooth running motors in delicate industrial production. A new technique has been created for testing minute leakages of electricity in insulation which may give warning of defective conditions.

The need of 287 kv. or even 220 kv. power transmissions is rather reduced by the proximity of generating stations to one another in the more populous areas of the country. The extremely high efficiency of modern fuel-burning power stations makes it hard for distant water-power developments to compete through transmission with first-class local plants. Where the economic conditions permit linking the two types the combination often works out well for both utilities and the consuming public. If sound engineering expectations are realized in the operation of the 287 kv. line from Boulder Dam to southern California, a new milestone will have been passed in the mastery of natural forces for the benefit of mankind.

Invention Makes Jobs

San Francisco Chronicle

Do science and invention create unemployment? Certainly in some phases of the case. But they also create employment.

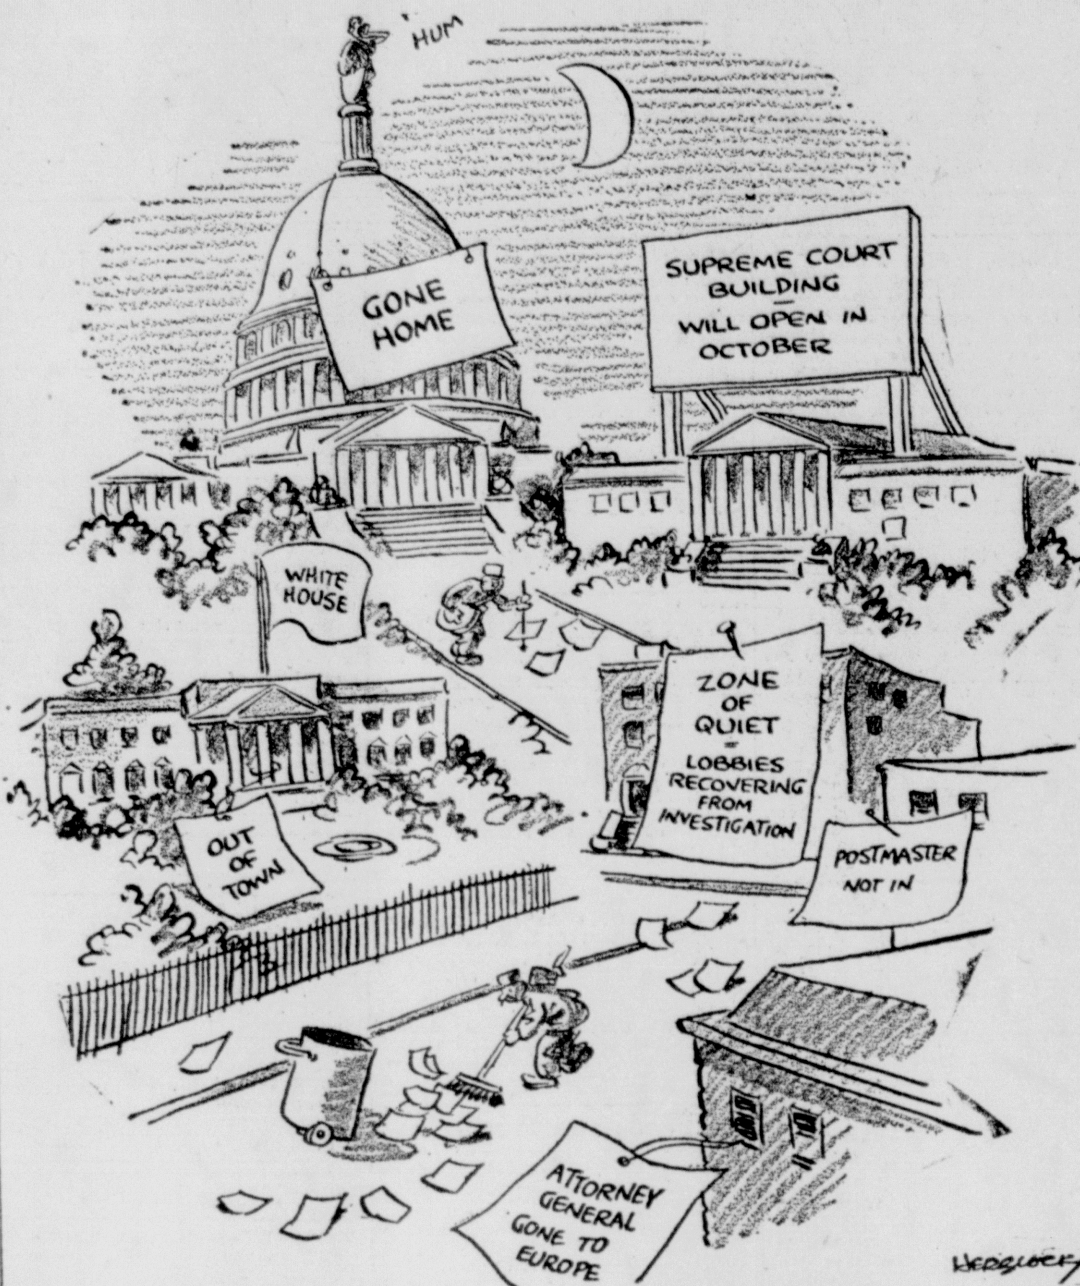

The National Industrial Conference Board lists eighteen industries that with one exception did not exist in 1879, and that exception was wholly undeveloped. Fifty years later these industries, all creations of science and invention, employed more than a million workers in the United States. Science and invention had put them to work.

Nor were these workers whom science and invention had displaced from other industries. In the same fifty years the proportion of industrial wage earners in the population had risen by 68 per cent. Thus, in these fifty years, science and invention had increased the total number of jobs for workers.

Look out of the window and see the automobiles flash by. How many of the 30,000,000 private cars to say nothing of the trucks—would there be if they had to be made by hand? How many workers would now be employed making, transporting, selling, driving and servicing motor cars if machines were not allowed in the factories?

Technocracy looked at only one side of the question. That is why it blew up so quickly.

All Quiet Along The Potomac

More Truth Than Poetry

(Who has been falsely accused of inventing Billingsgate.)

It's not the tolling fishwife
Whom purists should berate,
For that far-flung
And rowdy tongue
That's known as Billingsgate.
She uses coals and herrings
Her husband to control,
And when she's mad
She'll swing a shad,
Or cuff him with a sole.

But as for brutal language,
She leaves that to her man.
Hard words he's used
When not amused.
Since first the world began,
We ought to say fish husbands
When speaking of the sex.
Whose talk is rough
And loud and gruff,
But not at all complex.

The fishwife may be clumsy
When using parts of speech;
When she is stirred
She'll take the word
That's easiest to reach.
She's readily excited,
She's frequently irate,
But, bless her heart,
She lacks the art
To think up Billingsgate.

PARAGRAPHS

Never antagonize a man you would convince. Nothing else makes a mind so receptive as an application of soft soap. If a man's behavior seems unnatural, he may be (1) drunk, or (2) running for office, or (3) pleasing his wife. Equalization of taxation doesn't mean equal payment but payment that causes the same degree of hurt.

Thoughts On Modern Life

ROOSEVELT, REPUBLICANS AND CHANGE

Republicans will do well to read with care Mr. Roosevelt's essay on change which he delivered to the Young Democrats recently in session at Milwaukee.

The philosophy of social change expressed by the President is sound.

That is to say, institutions and constitutions, were made for man, not man for them, and each generation should, with a due admixture of caution and courage, adapt its old tools to its new tasks.

If the Republicans and Mr. Roosevelt would come to a pre-campaign agreement on this philosophy, and then restrict their campaign battles to an utterly honest debate on the soundness or unsoundness of the changes Mr. Roosevelt or the Republicans propose, the 1936 campaign would be refreshingly realistic.

There are a few discouraging hints from both camps that we may be in for a contest between irresponsible change and irresponsible opposition to change. And nothing could more seriously handicap the national future, as John Morley pointed out years ago when he said to his English constituency that "the future of mankind will be gravely imperiled if great issues are left to be fought out between ignorant change and ignorant opposition to change."

The issue of the Constitution is a case in point.

I happen to believe that there is grave danger in any sweeping increase of federal authority at the expense of the states, although the increasing complexity and interdependence of American life and enterprise make imperative the national handling of some things hitherto reserved to the states. This calls, therefore, for the utmost open-mindedness coupled with a vigilant watchfulness against the surrender of that irreducible balance of powers between states and nation without which we shall inevitably go the way of every nation that has, throughout the centuries, put all its eggs in one basket.

This safeguarding of the eternally sound heart of the Constitution will never be preserved by the attempt to make the Constitution a totem pole instead of a tool.

The ancient Greeks made this mistake. They were so smug and self-satisfied that they decreed death to any citizen of the Greek city-state who should propose to alter its constitution. But not even that rigid defense of their constitution could stay the onward sweep of social evolution, and so the city-state went down.

Here is a cue for 1936. Let's come to a nationwide agreement that there is nothing treasonous in suggesting changes even in the Constitution, and then stage an utterly realistic battle of competing judgments on whatever changes either party proposes.

THE TEACHER'S TASK

Parents and the public generally, do not realize the task that the teachers face. To many people school is the school of their childhood. Time has wiped out what was but a vague memory. College and business are more meaningful to him today than the school of his childhood. It was easy to go to school in those long ago days, as he remembers. It was easy for the teacher, too, he concludes. With that thought he dismisses the matter until one of the children complain that the teacher is cross, or mean or unfair.

"They managed better in the old days. We didn't have half the frills you have today, and the teachers were better and we learned more." Memory draws so enchanting a veil between childhood's sorrows and the troubles of middle age.

The teacher of today has a heavier task than any teacher ever faced before. As the years passed, the home, then the community, took their responsibilities to the school and left them there. The teacher now is health worker, social service worker, first aid, mental hygienist, general provider and distributor of necessities from soap to shoes, watch dog of the funds, and teacher of the grade.

Nobody has ever said that because the teacher has so many other things to do her classroom work must be curtailed. Not at all. The classroom work must be done as usual. The superintendent would be very much surprised and deeply grieved should he find any falling off in averages.

Money is scarce. There is no work for the older children. Every child is sent to school whether he is fit for the work he is set to do or not. That means a heavy registration and a more difficult teaching problem. It should mean more teachers, greater facilities for work, a varied course. What it has meant usually is a greater load for the teacher. No greater facilities, no more supplies, no loosening of the rigid courses, no change save in the amount of work required of the teacher. Sometimes she has to find seats, books, materials, as well—as time and strength for teaching.

It is not to be wondered at that children come home with complaints. Sometimes they are justified. Perhaps the teacher, too, could be justified? Before sending her a sharp note, investigate. Go to see her. Ask her about the conditions that brought about the child's complaint. If you do not leave the teacher with a feeling of sympathy and admiration you will astonish me.

The schools need money. Money means taxes. Parents are the tax payers and have the last word about the cost, management and administration of the schools. If parents will talk to the teachers, visit the schools, confer with the Board of Education, and show a willingness to raise the funds for adequate schooling of their children, the teachers will be able to do their work to a standard of efficiency that will delight the world. All the teacher needs is a chance.
